An Enigmatic Hilltop Enclosure

HISTORY

The Glenford Stone Fort, an ancient Adena-Hopewell hilltop enclosure, dated to 270 BCE, was utilized for ceremonial purposes. The “fort” which is open to the public on a limited basis, offers pleasure for everyone from the archaeologist to the nature enthusiast!

2019 GLENFORD FORT HIKE

The event will commence rain or shine and is approximately one mile on uneven terrain. Please wear comfortable shoes and clothing that is appropriate for a hike in the woods.

The cost of the event is a suggested donation of $10, which will be collected on site. Food and water available.

PERRY SWCD

On behalf of the Perry Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisors and Staff, we welcome you to the Glenford Fort. This property is the start of our partnership with the Perry County Historical and Cultural Arts Society, the Arc of Appalachia, and the Heartland Conservancy.

This property was purchased through a grant from the Clean Ohio Fund and some of the improvements were made through these grants.

The Perry SWCD would like to thank the Ohio Certified Volunteer Naturalists, the Shelly Company, the Ludowici Tile Company, the Hopewell Township Trustees and Brad Knight for their donations of time, stone for projects, and hard work.

ARC OF APPALACHIA

Glenford Fort is a name not yet recognized by most Ohioans, but that is about to change! A partnership has formed to raise the public consciousness of this ancient Adena-Hopewell ceremonial site AND to save a critical 65 acre portion of the complex. The substantial remainder of Glenford Fort is located on private land owned by the Cooperrider Family.
